

Dana Denton, MPT
1771 East 900 South
Salt Lake City, UT 84108
(801) 450-0736

Education

MPT Physical Therapy, University of Utah, 1998
BA Mass Communication, University of Utah, 1990

Experience

· NICU Physical Therapist Intermountain Medical Center (IMC), Salt Lake City, UT	January, 2008 - current
· Clinical Specialist/ Vice-President Catapult Products, LLC Salt Lake City, UT	November, 2012 - current
· Early Intervention Physical Therapist DDI Vantage, Salt Lake City, UT	June, 2006 – January, 2008
· Pediatric Physical Therapist Primary Children’s Hospital, Salt Lake City, UT	July, 1998 – November, 2005

Publications/ Presentations

- Instructor for Developmental Care for all new Level 2 nursing staff at IMC
- Author of “Implementing Research Based Best Bathing Practice in the NICU and Well-Baby Nursery: Swaddle Bathing.” Neonatal Intensive Care 2018: 31(1); 27-30
- Presented “Families in the NICU” to University of Utah Department of Education
- Presented a Swaddle Bathing Webinar to Idaho AWHONN

Professional Development (please refer to attached continuing education)

- Certified in Neonatal Touch and Massage
- Specialized training in Brazelton Behavioral Assessment, Pediatric NDT, sensory integration and feeding/swallowing for infants
- Co-Founder of Catapult Products, LLC
- Co-Developer of the TurtleTub Swaddle Bathing System
- Design Patent # US D786,570 S for Infant Bathtub

Affiliations/Membership

AWHONN- Association of Women’s Health, Obstetric and Neonatal Nurses
NANT- National Association of Neonatal Therapists
APTA – American Physical Therapy Association

Interests

Professionally, I strive to give infants the most optimal functional outcomes by educating parents and caregivers on research-based strategies for infant care. Life begins in the NICU, and our impact lasts a lifetime. I strive to make it a positive one.

Personally, I spend my time with my husband and three children. I live in Utah to be close to the activities I love, including biking, hiking and skiing.